Auto Truck And Bridge Fall Water Shortage Imperils Highway Progress In Sonoma Valley Ten Teachers For Sonoma High School Coming Term

WATER NEEDED FOR HIGHWAY CONSTRUCTION

Engineer Sams Asks that People Use Water From Sonoma Creek Sparingly; Will Open Pavement Soon.

The water shortage general through out California this year now looms as a problem in connection with the completion of the state highway under construction in Sonoma Valley. Engineer Sams, in charge of the project for Galbraith & Jones, declares that much water is needed to build and complete the paved highway and that the counted source has been the Sonoma Creek. He urges everyone using water from that fast diminishing supply to go slow with it that the highway contractors may complete the paving job now under way between the El Verano Bridge and Agua Caliente.

It is the plan of the contractors to go right ahead up to the three county bridges yet to be built at Warfield, on the Weise ranch and near Rosenthal's Resort. Enough local gravel will be available to complete the job and now the call is to conserve water for mixing and curing.

The paved portion of Lower Broadway will be thrown open to traffic July 22nd, and the area west of the Sonoma city limits to Baccala's corner by August 1st. This week preliminary work has been in progress, along the Verano-Springs section, which is being made ready for the pavement.

COUNTY ENGINEER'S VISIT IMPORTANT

County Surveyor and Engineer E. A. Peugh made an official visit here this week at the request of Supervisor Fred Lowell, who is doing everything possible to hasten work on the new bridge which must be erected over Sonoma Creek near Glen Ellen.

Mr. Peugh went over the ground, took all data on the needed new span and promptly drew the plans and specifications for the structure, which is estimated to cost about $10,000.

Supervisor Lowell and Surveyor Peugh are also intent on getting specifications forwarded to the state highway engineer returned to them, in order that two bridges yet to be built near Warfield may be put up and completed on the new state highway. The construction of these bridges has been hanging fire owing to changes in the specifications required by the state engineer. Their construction is urgent as the state highway work is rapidly approaching the upper valley.

ATTENDED CONVENTION OF NATIVE DAUGHTERS

Mrs. Mae Chase has returned from Santa Cruz, where she attended the Grand Parlor, N. D. G. W., and was finely entertained. She was a delegate from Sonoma Parlor.

The convention went on record as recommending the appropriation to maintain and restore the Sonoma Mission and forwarded the endorsement to Governor Richardson.

The Fourth Of July In Sonoma 1923

There was no public celebration of the Fourth yesterday in Sonoma. All the celebrating was done last year when despite poor roads thousands of people came to the Mission Centennial. Congressman Lea was here and delivered an oration; we had brass bands; machines were parked three or four deep around the Plaza and down Broadway, and our fellow citizens were all dolled up as caballeros and señoritas. Recall our leading citizens in their whiskers and regimentals, and the fellow dressed as a girl with the wicked smile (the one who vamped City Marshal Albertson). Where is the fellow who didn't ket a "kick" out of that celebration?

AGUA CALIENTE HAS RECORD CROWD

Last week and this Agua Caliente Springs has had the largest crowds in years. The opening of the new annex, ladies' bathing department, last Saturday and Sunday attracted many bathers and all were well pleased with the latest accommodations offered by Tom Corcoran, proprietor of the big resort.

The new guest cottage with its many rooms and up-to-date features was thrown open to guests last Saturday night. The main hotel is booked to capacity during this month and in addition many tent cottages are being utilized.

Mr. and Mrs. Corcoran plan extra entertainment for the public over the Fourth of July week end. There will be music and dancing at the bath house both daytime and evening on Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

The mineral swimming tank was thronged with bathers yesterday.

WERE VISITORS AT THE GOLF CLUB

Messrs. Cal McMahon of Bartlett Springs, Ah Fong, the wealthy Chinese with affiliations in Hawaii, and other friends accompanied Fred F. Partridge here Saturday and visited the golf links near Sonoma Vista.

Almost every week end Mr. Partridge is bringing prominent people to Sonoma Valley and acquainting them with its advantages.

WAGNER WITHDRAWS FROM SUPERVISOR RACE

E. A. Wagner, of Boyes Springs who has had to remove to Berkeley on account of his wife's health, will not be able to make the race for supervisor this year and has written the Index-Tribune, withdrawing his candidacy. Mr. Wagner desires to thank his friends and supporters for their good will and offer of support and regrets that he cannot leave his hat in the ring, and says: "May the best man win."

Wagner, former business man and post master at Boyes Springs, plans to make an indefinite stay in the college town, where his wife is under the care of physicians.

Bridge Over Sonoma Creek Near State Home Collapses and One Man Is Injured

An unusual accident happened on last Saturday morning when a big truck, laden high with heavy boilers, attempted to cross the bridge over Sonoma Creek near the State Home, caught the superstructure in such a way that the supports were torn away and pulled down the bridge. The span instantly collapsed, falling with the truck into the bed of the creek twenty feet below.

The truck, a two ton machine owned by Lee Brothers of Santa Rosa, landed right side up, its load intact. The driver was practically unhurt, except for the severe jolt he received, but a man who had bummed a ride on the truck and got off to walk across the bridge just before the accident, was struck by a heavy timber and his back painfully hurt. The man was Joseph Richards and he was given prompt treatment at the Home, where it was at first feared that his back had been broken.

The truck was enroute to Marysville from Santa Rosa and the high load not only wrecked the bridge but also tore down telephone wires in the vicinity of the structure, so that all communication with Glen Ellen was for a time cut off.

Since the state highway has been under construction along the route of the former main county road between Santa Rosa and Sonoma all traffic has been routed via Glen Ellen, and over the bridges on that side of the Valley. The accident to the bridge near the Pagani winery will seriously cripple travel that way, although a detour through the State Home was promptly built by Supervisor Lowell and Roadmaster Joseph Revie, and is now being used.

A concrete bridge will be built at once to replace the former structure.

BUCKET BRIGADE DOES GOOD WORK

A neglected, grass grown vineyard near the Harvey Toy property at Sonoma Vista caught fire Wednesday and for the third time in the past year a small house on the tract was saved from destruction. As soon as the fire was discovered, the bucket brigade of Sonoma Vista, the new volunteer department organized by the Sonoma Vista Improvement Club, got into action and gave battle to the flames. The fire was burning over a wide area but was controlled by the time the chemical engines arrived.

Sonoma Vista volunteers have barrels of water distributed at advantageous points and the fire fighters are provided with buckets and sacks. When the fire demon lifts his head Sonoma Vistans are ready to protect their homes.

Chief Valente and Chief Stuermer of the Sonoma and Boyes Springs departments were on the ground promptly to aid in case of a general conflagration.

Shortly after the Sonoma Vista fire there was a call to Caliente Park where another grass fire gave local fire fighters including the newly organized Caliente Park brigade an opportunity to demonstrate their efficiency, which they did.

The fire companies urge all residents and visitors to the valley to exercise the greatest precaution against fire. The water shortage and extreme dryness of everything combine a menace which is extremely dangerous.

WERE GUESTS OF SUPERVISOR AND WIFE

Senator Slater of Santa Rosa and William Maddox of Fulton were dinner guests of Supervisor and Mrs. Fred Lowell last Saturday night and praised the hospitality of Mr. Lowell and his wife, particularly Mrs. Lowell's home made bread.

Mrs. Ralph Busby of Berkeley was a recent visitor at the Adler home.

AUTOS COLLIDE AT SCHELLVILLE

Nothing but the fact that both were heavy cars averted a fatality at Schellville Sunday when a Hudson sedan driven by H. Cohn of 2102 Fillmore street, and a Winton driven by S. F. Garber of Leavenworth street, San Francisco, collided head on. The passengers of both cars, including several ladies, were badly shaken up, one man sustained a broken ankle and both automobiles were badly damaged in the crash.

The drivers were cited to appear before Judge Small Thursday to explain who was responsible for the accident which occurred in broad daylight and without any apparent recklessness on the part of either driver.

Another auto case scheduled to come before the court next week is that of Mrs. Eaton, complaining witness, against a Petaluma youth named Hurley, who is alleged to have been guilty of reckless driving. Hurley is said to be a prominent Boy Scout of the Egg City.

OLD MARSH RECLUSE DIES IN HIS ARK

Charles Appleby, old sportsman and recluse who long lived on the marshes near Wingo was found dead in his ark this week. His brother with whom he long hunted and fished in and along the sloughs below Schellville died some years ago. The brothers had been well known characters of the marsh for the past 40 years and were looked after by gun clubs and Joe Keechler of the Jones ranch who frequently befriended them.

Appleby had been dead for more than a week when his body was found. Coroner Phillips held an inquest, the verdict being death from natural causes.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bundschu of Rhine Farm have been enjoying a visit from Mr. Bundschu's sister, Alma, and her young daughter.

Cloverdale Cans Town Marshal Orr

William Orr's active career as town marshal of Cloverdale is now over. Orr rocked the boat so hard in his zeal to be a real enforcement officer that he was finally fired by the city trustees of the Orange City by a vote of four to one. The town marshal was a friend of Pussyfoot Johnson and the only law that he enthused over was the prohibition law. His gum-shoeing in that direction proved his undoing. The public at last got tired of being spied on and suspected of being violators of the Volstead Act so a widely signed petition was circulated and the officious official was dismissed.

BOYES LUMBER FIRM IN BIG MERGER

The Santa Rosa Lumber Company, the Boyes Springs Lumber Company, the Fulton Lumber Company, the Clear Lake Lumber Company and the Vallejo Lumber Company with resources amounting to $275,000, are now owned and operated by the Golden West Lumber Company of San Francisco, as a holding corporation, according to announcement received here from the head office. It is the plan of the holding company to enlarge and extend the business which includes lumber, mill work and building materials of all kinds.

The company is headed by Clayton Greene, who began operations in a small way four years ago. He is president and manager and is regarded as one of the most progressive lumber merchants of the state. Russell F. O'Hara of Vallejo, an attorney, is a director.

O. L. HOSE IN A SAN FRANCISCO HOSPITAL

O. L. Hose, proprietor of the Expositor-Forum, was taken to San Francisco last week by his brother and is now under treatment in a hospital. During his absence the plant is being conducted by Hallie Rambo Giorno and Harold Prestwood, assisted by Paul Robin, Jr.

The friends of the local editor hope for his speedy recovery.

WATER SHORTAGE IN MOUNTAIN COUNTRY

Colonel Parker has returned to Feters Springs after spending the winter at Mokelumne Hill and Sonora. He states that the water shortage in that country and other parts of the state he passed through is a calamity and that water for irrigation and domestic use formerly supplied by the big irrigation ditches is not available for the first time in 60 years. People are bringing their clothes to the river and seeking pools in which to wash them. Farmers appear dazed at the condition of their crops. He declares Sonoma county one of the blessed areas in the state, despite water shortage here.

NEW DEPARTMENT OF MACHINE TRADES ADDED

Miss Edythe Olsen Succeeds Miss Byrne, Resigned; New Equipment to be Installed.

The Sonoma Valley Union High School faculty is now complete for the coming school year. All of last year's faculty are returning with the exception of Miss Eva Byrne, teacher of Household Arts. Miss Byrne's place has been filled by Miss Edythe Olsen who taught at Mountain View High School last year. Miss Olsen comes highly recommended and will undoubtedly advance the work in Household Arts even beyond its present excellent condition. The local high school has been fortunate in its teachers of Household Arts during the last four years. The home-making course is adding the subject of home decorating and management.

The high school in the last two years, taking advantage of its better facilities, has made a big move forward by building up a number of clearly outlined courses of study. The courses are six in number and as follows:

University preparatory, teachers college preparatory, commercial, home making, agriculture and machine trades. The last named was added this summer and a competent machinist and auto mechanic, J. W. Benton, has been engaged as instructor. A steel lathe to cost about $600 will be

KITCHENS IN PETALUMA EQUIPPING INCUBATORS

The Kitchen brothers have given up the house on Spain street where they have been residing and have gone to Petaluma where they are busy making installations of their patented turning device on the incubators of the AA Electric Hatchery, and other hatcheries of that city. The superior feature which comes from the Sonoma factory of the inventors is given prominence on the sign of this Petaluma hatchery, which reads: "A A Electric Hatchery, Equipped With Kitchen Turning Device."

George Crowe, of the incubator company, has just returned from Hayward where he got an order to equip the 200 machines of the Chanticleer Electric Hatchery of that city, which has a capacity of 100,000 eggs. He plans to visit the Foster poultry farm at Hopland later in the week. This is considered the finest plant in the West.

EL VERANO NEWS

By ARCHIBALD McKIVER

Bill Hildebrand, S. P. passenger conductor on the Santa Rosa branch, who with his wife and a party of friends, has been on a several weeks visit to New York and other cities, returned recently to his home and resumed his duties on the regular run. Hildebrand is one of the few veteran conductors left on the S. P., and his many friends are welcoming him back along the line. He reports he feels 100 per cent younger and had a most wonderful trip through the various states.

The old town is booming this week end and pleasure seekers are arriving by train, bus and auto to spend the Fourth of July week end in the Valley of the Moon. All resorts are crowded and pretty girls with bobbed hair are the main attraction on our streets. Everybody is happy, enjoying the different amusements and the big dance held at the El Verano Villa is crowded with lovers of dancing. It is estimated that the largest crowd in many years is in the valley, owing to the three-day holiday which is being observed in the city.

Mrs. L. L. Stevenson and Mrs. E. P. Waldo have been enjoying a motor trip to Lake county.

The Misses E. Terry and E. Wood of San Francisco are enjoying a week at their summer bungalow on Nob Hill. Miss Terry is a bookkeeper at the Spreckels Market, San Francisco.

LOCAL PAPER CAN SAVE
BUSINESS OF SMALL TOWN

By OLE BUCK
Field Manager, Nebraska Press Association

A common remark nowadays is that the big towns are swallowing the little ones, that the automobiles and good roads are taking all the business to the big towns, that soon there will be nothing left of the small towns but a depot, a grain elevator, a post office a garage, and one or two little stores. Fred Anderson, founder of the Anderson Department store, in Cozad,

Nebraska, has proved that this is not necessarily true. Cozad is a town of 1300 population, located near two larger towns. Fred Anderson started in business there with a capital of $3000, $2200 of it borrowed. That was in 1906. He started in a little frame building. Last year he did a business of $300,000 and his store now contains 3700 square feet of space.

The first ten years he did little or no advertising and just dragged along. Then he started advertising in the local paper. He has been at it every year and his business has grown steadily to its present proportions. He gives all the credit to advertising. Last year he spent 1 1-2 per cent of his income for advertising. He says he could afford to spend twice that much.

He has a duplicating machine and does lots of direct-by-mail advertising and he improves any and every opportunity for keeping his store before the public. But space in the local paper is his chief reliance. He never uses less than a page, and, sometimes several pages in the same issue. He says he has bought the local paper many times but never got title to it. But he doesn't want title because it serves him so well as it is.

The Rosenbaum store in Harvard, Neb., another 1300 town, is an example of what can be done by giving the public what it wants and doing enough advertising to make the facts known. Harvard is within easy driving distance of four or five larger towns, one of 60,000, one or two of 12,000 or more, and others much larger than it is, but this store draws trade for 50 miles or more.

These stores have proved that it is just as easy to follow the good roads in a Ford to a small town as a large one, provided the small town goes after the business. Mr. Anderson says that what they have done any one can do by following the same methods. He says a merchant is justified in spending as high as 6 per cent of his income for advertising while he is starting. But no small town will ever get any place by bemoaning the fact that all the business is going to the big towns and then doing nothing to prevent it. And no country town editor will help the situation any by printing editorials and news items encouraging such a belief.

Mr. and Mrs. Olivio Maffei have moved into the bungalow on First Street West formerly occupied by Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Brubeck.

INDEPENDENCE DAY

The United States celebrates July 4th, 1924, throughout its grand area and there is quite as much patriotism in evidence as at any time since 1776, despite the pessimist and the Red who wonders if love of country is as of yore among our people and if there is not dissension favorable to the breaking down of the most successful government on earth. We have in America today as fervid patriotism as ever, but it is of different type than that which once prated of our country, right or wrong. The Independence Day spirit of 1924 reflects the true independence of thought which education and experience has enriched to the point where it wants our country to be right in all things it champions. Thus Old Glory will float more proudly than ever before our eyes, typifying protection for all our people, shining forth as a guarantee of justice to all other peoples, friend and mediator, ally and advocate of truth and right.

Constructive criticism, abiding its time of influence should never be misconstrued and with the American guarantee of rights of the press and freedom of speech, cannot be abridged. The betterment of the nation is a worthy objective. Protest against it falling into the hands of those who would mutilate its Constitution and alter the spirit breathed into it by the greatest patriots who ever builded a democracy needs no defense.

The national holiday is as fervently observed as ever and the heart of every American wells with pride at the magnificent institutions which have risen from the foundation laid by our ancestors and since enjoyed by increasing millions who here find peace, comfort, education and opportunity such as few lands in the world have ever offered.

The Star Spangled Banner, may it ever proudly wave over a nation willing to defend it and voluntarily sacrificing even life itself for the honor it inspires and the principles it represents.

VICTORY FOR CALIFORNIA INDIANS

(From California Indian Herald)

The decision of the State Supreme Court in the case of the Pipers vs. Big Pine School District is the most vitally important victory California Indians have yet achieved. It is the entering wedge with which they may open the way to an ultimate recognition of their rights.

The Indians have long understood that to cope with their white neighbor successfully they must become familiar with the devious ways and the mass of inconsistencies which go to make up that individual's dealing with his red brother. For some time they have felt that in the schools of the whites their children would get early experience in the environment in which they must later make their living. In other words, they would at least get a glimpse of the rules of the game before they were forced into the field. So, prompted by that immortal instinct for the protection of their young, they have made persistent efforts to establish their right of entry to the schools of the whites.

Finally through continued efforts of the Indian Board of Co-operation a test case was brought before the State Supreme Court. The case was that of the parents of Alice Piper, an Indian child, versus the Big Pine School District in Inyo County. J. W. Henderson, president of and attorney for the Indian Board, prepared the brief and succeeded in getting an early and favorable decision. The substance of the lengthy opinion by the court was that "the education of children is in a sense exclusively the function of the State and it cannot be delegated to any other agency." "It is the obligation of the State to educate children, and it must educate them in its public schools unless it has provided other schools for them exclusively."

The admission of Indian children into district schools has met with much opposition. Certain mean-spirited and petty individuals in various districts throughout the State have urged their exclusion. Their arguments favoring such exclusion are vague indeed, but boiled down, they amount to nothing but race prejudice.

Less than ten years ago these same energetic agitators were furiously reviling Germany's barbarous treatment of a weaker nation. They were chanting the praises of the spirit of democracy and quite generously recognizing the duty of their Indian neighbors to fight for the perpetuation of this same spirit. However, they seem to have failed in their interpretation of the world democracy and they evidently see no connection between the protection of the rights of the weaker people and their treatment of their Indian neighbors. But to guard against just such inconsistencies the Fourteenth Amendment of the United States Constitution states "nor shall any State deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws." The decision of the State Supreme Court stands out as an example of just and honest interpretation of the law without regard to race or class prejudice.

The school victory marks the second favorable decision rendered by the State Supreme Court in California Indian cases. In 1917 the citizenship of California Indians was established by a test of the issue brought by the Indian Board of Co-operation. This decision has proved invaluable to the Indians whenever a legal question of their rights has arisen. It is worthy of note that jurists, legislators and intelligent citizens throughout the State have consistently shown themselves friendly to the Indian cause.

Mrs. George Leiser gave a delightful children's party on last Friday to celebrate the fourth birthday of her son, George Allen, Jr. Games and toys were enjoyed during the afternoon and later refreshments were served at a pretty table decorated with sweet peas and crepe paper.

Those present were Zelma Flieger, Lavona Anselmi, June Picetti, Walter Stuermer, Jr., and Allen Leiser.

AMERICAN LEGION NEWS

All of the 300 Legion posts in California have received a supply of the adjusted compensation blanks from the War Department, according to Morgan Keaton, Department Adjutant of the American Legion, of San Francisco. All former ex-service men are advised to call upon the Post Adjutant in the city nearest his residence for an application blank. The individual posts have also agreed to help in the handling of these blanks to the extent of advising the veterans how to make them out and get them to the proper officials in order to secure for the men the adjusted compensation coming to them. In a number of the larger cities the county councils of the American Legion are doing the clerical work in co-operation with a number of the larger cosmopolitan newspapers.

It is estimated, according to Keaton that the blanks will be handled very quickly by scattering this burden of service throughout the different posts which is saving the War Department and other departments interested in the bonus, thousands of dollars. There were 152,000 men who entered the service from the state of California alone.

Mrs. M. Bride of Boyes Springs went down to her San Francisco home Monday to visit her sons. Mrs. Bride had three boys in the late war, one of whom was recently married.

GOLDEN WEDDING WAS CELEBRATED

At Home Croft, their beautiful family home in Mill Valley on July 1st, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Pooley celebrated their golden wedding and the day was quietly spent at the beautiful spot, where the patriarchal couple, yet young at heart because they love the beautiful, have been contented and happy and have much to be proud of and thankful for, surrounded by their loved ones, had a happy day.

On Wednesday Mr. and Mrs. Pooley left for a "honeymoon" trip to Santa Cruz for a vacation of 10 days, then on to Monterey, where Mr. Pooley will put in busy days at Monterey, Pacific Grove and Carmel on his semi-annual visit to his patrons of many years, spending the week ends at Santa Cruz, where Mrs. Pooley will remain for some weeks.

Mr. Pooley is the well known piano tuner, father of Miss Edith Pooley, who formerly taught music here.

PERFORMED OPERATIONS AT OAKLAND CONVENTION

Dr. J. Russell Morris, who is attending the convention of physicians and surgeons at Oakland, spent several hours in Petaluma Thursday, going up to look after several of his patients, and returning in the evening being a guest at the Rotary luncheon while in town.

On Wednesday Dr. Morris performed several operations at the convention which were witnessed by the entire convention and he was highly complimented for his efficient work by those who witnessed it. He is taking a prominent part in the deliberations of the largely attended convention, which is a most beneficial one to all present—Petaluma Argus.

Dr. Morris is a son of J. B. Morris of Agua Caliente.

Mrs. F. E. Elkins of Buena Vista came up from San Francisco Monday evening.

TOY GETS HIGHWAY CONVENTION FOR WEST

California has been awarded the 1924 convention of the American Association of State Highway Officials. It will convene in San Francisco in November, from the 17th to the 20th. This was the good news received early this month from Chairman Harvey M. Toy, who attended a meeting of the executive committee of the association in Greensboro, North Carolina, June 4th, at which time the decision was made.

The convention will bring to California highway officials of practically every state in the union, prominent highway engineers as well as leading officials of the United States Bureau of Public Roads, and others active in the highway movement throughout the country.

Chairman Toy, who is a member of the executive committee, went East armed with invitations from Governor Richardson, Mayor James Rolph of San Francisco, the California State Automobile Association and the State Highway Commission.

Plans will be begun at once for the holding of the convention and the entertainment of the many prominent visitors expected.

VESTAL SELLS CASH AND CARRY FRUIT MARKET

W. T. Vestal has sold his Cash and Carry Fruit Market to D. Perris and will go to Santa Rosa to reside. Vestal, popular Elk and well known throughout Sonoma county, ran the Vestal ranch near Buena Vista before going into business here.

The new owner of the market, Mr. Perris, is already well known here, where he has been conducting vegetable and fruit peddling business for some time past.

Ulysses Bertelotti, former Sonoma boy, now an employee of the Bank of Italy, Oakland, has been spending his vacation here.

COUPLE WED

George Diebold, old resident of Sonoma Valley, sent for one of County Clerk Felt's deputies to come to his bedside and issue a marriage license that he might wed Anna Gurcke, for the past six years his house keeper and nurse. Diebold has been ill for some time past and contemplates an operation so decided to marry Mrs. Gurcke that she might inherit his property in the event that he did not recover. Diebold has been married several times before. He is 73 years of age.

NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS

The Index-Tribune force worked all day July 4th in order to get the paper to you Saturday morning as usual. The papers were taken to the Sonoma Post office Friday evening. If Glen Ellen or other patrons do not receive the paper on time it is due to the post office holiday, no mail being dispatched July 4th. The Glen Ellen papers cannot leave the Sonoma post office until Saturday night, July 5th and then go via Santa Rosa and then back again, very unsatisfactory service. The hour of arrival of all evening mail now conflicts with the civil service hours permitted at the post office and evening mail is no longer distributed, another situation which is far from satisfactory and should be adjusted.

SUCCESSFUL OPERATION

Dr. S. Boelsen operated on E. G. Abbott last Monday for tumor of the stomach and appendicitis. The patient is reported as doing very nicely.

Mrs. H. Duffin returned from a visit in San Francisco on Monday evening's train.

E. DuBois, who has a fine dairy ranch over the Napa county line, has been away on a fishing trip to Lake Eleanor.

SONOMA WON HONORS AT CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR MEET

At the Christian Endeavor convention held in San Jose last week there was a representative attendance from Sonoma, the local C. E. receiving the attendance banner for Sonoma county and the Sonoma Junior organization being signally recognized. Donald Bean of the Junior League lead the Scripture reading devotion before an audience of 2000 and Owen Nieman was in the streamer drill before the vast assemblage. Both boys won much praise.

The local delegates returned to their homes Monday after a week spent in San Jose. Those in the party were: Mrs. S. B. Lewis and daughter Elizabeth, Vesta Prestwood, Eva Carter, Eva Schieck, Irene White, Allen and Donald Bean, Owen Nieman, Walter Carter, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Rankin, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. McAllister, Mr. and Mrs. F. Edrington, Donald Edrington, Mrs. Helwick and Rev. and Mrs. Isaac Cookman.

Miss Celia Thomson goes to Berkeley this week for a Fourth of July house party at the home of friends in the college town.

Mrs. Barsi of Glen Ellen gave birth to a baby boy this week. Dr. A. M. Thomson was in attendance.

Mrs. Johnson of San Francisco is here on a visit to her sister, Mrs. Agnes Parramore.

Mrs. Silas Olin has returned from a trip with her husband to Shasta Springs.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Baccala are looking forward to a visit of several weeks from their daughter, Matilda, of San Francisco, who has been quite ill, having undergone a mastoid operation. Mrs. Merkelbach was up last Monday for the day.

Divine services will be held at the Trinity church, Sonoma, on Sunday morning, July 6th, at 8 o'clock. The Rev. William S. Short of Santa Rosa will officiate. All are welcome.

Mr. and Mrs. P. Lembeys are enjoying a visit from their nephew, Louis, of Oakland, whose parents formerly conducted the French bakery in Sonoma.

THE SONOMA VALLEY IM-PROVEMENT CLUB NOTES

The Sonoma Valley Improvement Club held its regular meeting Tuesday night and installed the new officers for the coming term. The sergeant-at-arms, Mrs. Hansen, introduced the candidates for the various offices and Mr. Elliot acted as installing officer. So well did the sergeant-at-arms perform her arduous task that she was presented by L. L. Jones with the official side-arm to maintain the dignity of her office, likewise to club the unruly. President James J. Kearney on taking the chair was presented with a gavel by J. J. Northmore, who, in congratulating the new president, assured him of proper backing. There is an old adage, "Great minds run in the same channel" which can be applied here. Mrs. Saxl also made a similar present of a gavel suitably engraved. As our Jim is a big, husky, two-fisted man, it suits admirably, as he can use a gavel in each hand.

Immediately following the business session the inner man was taken care of. Mrs. M. Y. Hansen was commissary general and you may rest assured the repast was bounteous. Mr. Elliot was appointed toastmaster and in calling on various members paid a high tribute to the retiring president, W. F. White, for his devotion to the club. The members responded by a rising vote of thanks. Mr. White was the recipient of a handsome fountain pen from the members and a box of cigars from Mrs. Saxl.

Among those present were two new members, one being R. R. Empanan of Sonoma, who responded to a call and made an interesting speech which showed a deep study of the requirements of the valley. It was notable for its earnestness, proving beyond a doubt his whole being was on the subject. His elucidation of various matters touching our mutual interests was thoroughly appreciated. Mr. Empanan is a young man of a magnetic personality and sufficiently aggressive to stay with any problem until it is solved. He made a number of friends here.

The other new member was Josef Lennartz, maker of the famous Lennartz violin, nationally known and by artists considered an extra high grade instrument. Mr. Lennartz has traveled extensively, and has finally concluded to remain here permanently, for he likes this valley.

To recount the various speeches made by members and visitors would fill this paper. Suffice it to say the meeting resolved into one of mutual admiration and the members adjourned with the knowledge of having had an enjoyable evening.

FREE MOVIES OF HOOF AND MOUTH DISEASE

One of the educational activities of the Farm Bureau during the past several weeks has been the showing of a free motion picture bearing on the prevailing hoof and mouth epidemic. When first indications of the scourge appeared in the state the Farm Bureau camera man got busy, and up to the present a complete cinema record of the situation has been compiled in motion pictures by this organization.

Sonoma county has been allotted several showings of the pictures and it is expected a large turnout will appreciate the entertainment that will be given here July 15th, at the high school auditorium.

GRAND MASTER OF MASON'S VISIT
ATTENDED BY SONOMANS

Ralph Hotz, Frank McGill, Louis Bosch, Henry Norrbom, Alfred Rubke, R. C. Bancroft, H. D. Burmester, Jos. Revie, E. Carlson, and other prominent members of Sonoma's Masonic Lodge motored to Napa last week when Grand Master Crites of Bakersfield was welcomed by several lodges of this district. The school of instruction as conducted by Grand Lecturer Baker proved most interesting and beneficial to the large gathering, the visitors later being entertained with a banquet which followed a reception to the Grand Master and a fine talk by the official.

TEN TEACHERS THIS

installed for the new department, which is costing $2000 to equip.

The commercial course has made more rapid improvement in the last two years than probably any of the other courses. The school can turn out under present conditions competent stenographers, bookkeepers and office workers. During the last year two of the students in attendance at high school were doing responsible stenographic work in the community. Next year the first year class are given a course in elementary business practice, which includes filing, the use of telephone and telegraph and the multitude of incidental matters which beginners in seeking employment must know. The course as at present constituted offers all of the work in as thorough a manner as can be secured at any business college. More over it offers the enriched curriculum in other branches and social opportunities which the business college cannot offer.

The advancement in the outline of courses and in more thorough instruction has been accomplished with a constantly reduced maintenance rate. The rate of maintenance during the last two years has been the second lowest in the county. This year the principal believes that the school will have the lowest maintenance rate in the county. Since the rule in schools is the smaller the school the larger the rate, this is a testimony that the Board of Trustees has spent the taxpayers' money in an economical manner. They have used the money very largely for permanent improvements.

The faculty for the next school term will be as follows:

L. H. Golton, principal; A. M. Harvard.

Miss Edith Hoag, vice principal; B. L. University of California.

Miss Bertha L. Warthorst; A. M. Stanford.

Miss Edith Coggins; A. M. University of California.

Miss Mary L. Bloom, B. A., College of Missouri and University of California.

Miss Edythe Olsen, Washington State College.

Miss Alice M. Lighter, A. B., University of Oregon.

Lyle Campbell, A. B., College of the Pacific.

L. L. Stenquist, Washington State College.

W. Benton, Lawrence College, Wisconsin.

EPWORTH LEAGUERS

While there Mr. Crowe met Rev. W. W. Case, pioneer pastor of the Sonoma M. E. church who now has retired and has a 50 acre apple orchard near Forestville.

EMPARAN CANDIDATE FOR SUPERVISOR

The formal announcement of the candidacy of R. R. Emparan for supervisor of the First District appears elsewhere in this issue under the heading of Political Announcements.

Mr. Emparan was born in Sonoma and educated in the local schools, including the high school, of which he is a graduate. For a number of years he was an employee of the San Francisco branch of the Crane Company, one of the largest contracting construction companies in the United States.

He later assumed the management of the Sonoma City Water Works, which he put upon a business basis after a previous series of vicissitudes.

For the past four years Emparan has been a deputy assessor under Hoke Smith.

Believing that his experience, business record and enthusiasm for the betterment of his district well qualify him for the office of supervisor, he is making the race with Fred A. Lowell, incumbent.

INDEPENDENCE DAY
AT THE STATE HOME

An attractive program of the Independence Day events at the Sonoma State Home reflects credit on the printing department of the institution. The Fourth of July was ushered in with a field meet, starting at 8:30. The band was on the grounds and played patriotic airs while the boys and girls of the institution competed in various races, jumping, base ball throwing, tug of war, and greased pole contest. In the afternoon a base ball game between the Sonoma Juniors and Bane Cottage inmates was a feature.

A merry-go-round fireworks and evening band concert were features of the big celebration.

Such good will is fostered by a general understanding of the company's problems and of its relations with the public.

Your principal points of contact with the company are the service you get and the rates you pay.

What the public wants in the way of electric power service is plenty of current, served without interruption at the lowest rates consistent with good service.

California utilities are strictly regulated with respect to rates, financing and service by the public through its Railroad Commission.

California enjoys the best service and the lower rates. That is why California has become a great industrial state. That is one reason why life in the city and on the farm has become so much more comfortable in California.

RECOLLECTIONS OF THE LATE GENERAL VALLEJO

By OTTO von GELDERN

Referring to a historic narrative written by my old friend, the late Zoeth S. Eldredge, entitled "The Beginnings of San Francisco," I find the following interesting recapitulation of this event which is worthy of repetition, because it will help to get a correct conception of the character of the illustrious General.

"Fremont and his party were encamped at the embarcadero on the Sacramento River when the prisoners" (the four above mentioned) "were brought before him. He declined to receive them. General Vallejo demanded to know why and by whose authority he had been arrested and dragged from his home. Fremont denied that he was in any way responsible for what had been done, declaring that they were prisoners of the people who had been driven to revolt for self-protection. The prisoners were taken to Sutter's Fort where they were imprisoned for two months. Thus did the foreigners return the kindness and forbearance of the owners of the soil. Of all the Californians, Vallejo was the most friendly to the Americans, was favorable to American ascendancy, and believed that the best interests of his country lay in its absorption by the United States.

"The founders of the 'California Republic' were beginning to feel somewhat uneasy regarding the fate of their undertaking when on July 7, 1846, Commodore Sloat landed his men at Monterey, raised the United States flag, and took formal possession of California. This terminated the embarrassment of the Bear Flag party. The movement had been an ill-advised one, an unnecessary and utterly unwarranted interference with a people from whom they had received nothing but kindness and hospitality. Their conduct at this time and later created such a feeling of antagonism towards Americans as made difficult the pacification of the country. The better class of Californians had long realized the fact that the province would be infinitely better off under either English or American rule and would have accepted the change with relief. General Kearney says in his official report from Monterey on March 15, 1847: 'The Californians are now quiet, and I shall endeavor to keep them so by mild and gentle treatment. Had they received such treatment from the time our flag was hoisted here, in July last, I believe there would have been but little or no resistance on their part. They have been most cruelly and shamefully abused by our own people—by the volunteers (American immigrants) raised in this part of the country and on the Sacramento. Had they not resisted they would have been unworthy the name of men.'

"Always friendly to the immigrants, Vallejo exceeded his authority in protecting them and in this and in openly advocating the cause of the United States, his great influence was always used for the American cause, notwithstanding the treatment he received. One can hardly conceive a more ungrateful return for the kindness to immigrants and help to Americans than to be seized and confined in a dismal prison by these same immigrants and kept there long after the United States authorities had taken possession and the United States flag was flying over his prison house. On September 15, 1846, he wrote Larkin: 'I left the Sacramento half dead and arrived here (Sonoma) almost without life, but am now much better. The political change has cost a great deal to my person and mind and likewise to my property. I have lost more than 1000 live horned cattle, 600 tame horses, and many other things of value which were taken from my house here and at Petaluma. My wheat crops are entirely lost, for the cattle ate them up in the field and I assure you that 200 fanegas of sowing, in good condition as mine was, is a considerable loss. All is lost and the only hope for making it up is to work again.'

"That Vallejo's services to the American cause were appreciated by some of the officers is shown by a letter from Captain Montgomery of the Portsmouth, dated September 25, 1846. The Captain sends hearty thanks for the service you have rendered as well as for the prompt and sincere manner in which you were pleased to tender your assistance to the government of the United States in the recent emergency, and to your associates whose ready obedience to your call has done much towards allaying natural prejudices and unfriendly suspicions among the various classes comprising the society of California, and for hastening arrangements for the establishment of peace, order and good government in the country."

To these historic references I have nothing to add. They give us a picture of the man who, under all conditions of life, attempted to do the right thing conscientiously at the right time. He was never a military automaton, for in most of his actions, if not in all of them, the rigor of duty was tempered by a gentle infusion of the feeling of the heart, and never were they dictated by personal desire or motives of self-interest.

For a number of years I received letters from him from time to time, wherever I happened to be (I remember receiving one when I was in Europe); these letters I treasured very highly; they would be in my possession today had it not been for the great San Francisco fire which destroyed them in 1906.

These letters contained news of the old town, interspersed with interesting statements and admonitions and were written in Spanish, which with the aid of a dictionary I was always able to read. I remember that he made a strong attempt to inculcate in me the rigorous principle that glittering gold does not hold happiness, and that a young man should not look upon it as the only object worth striving for and living for, but that a certain mental culture should guide our progress in life so that we might be ever sure not to lose our self respect. Rescue this at the loss of your golden treasure if need be, for if one has lost his self respect how then could he expect another to have it for him? (To be continued next week)

W. P. tracks at Schellville, thence to Sausalito. It is rumored that the S. P. Company is negotiating a trade of a rail line in Arizona for the N. W. P., which branch terminates at Glen Ellen, and it is said that officials were looking over the line that they contemplate taking over.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Pierson have been spending several days with Mrs. J. Dutil. The Piersons have just returned, from a pleasure and business visit to Honolulu and had a most enjoyable trip. Mrs. Pierson was formerly Miss Adele Dutil, an El Verano girl.

Mrs. John Serres, Sr., of Agua Caliente, was operated upon last week in San Francisco for cancer. The patient is recovering nicely, which will be good news to Sonoma Valley friends, who are pleased to learn she will soon return to her Agua Caliente home.

Jack Delaney, leader of the orchestra at El Verano Villa, has signed with the El Verano French diva, Edmond Debats, and will take him along with the orchestra and theatrical troupe which, after the summer season here, will tour California and eastern states, ending up in Paris, the song bird's birth place. As a negro songster, Edmond cannot be beat and local admirers are planning a big demonstration for Monsieur before he hops off on the circuit.

Emile Cornelius, of Sonoma, hoped the local rattler and took in the town of South Vallejo on Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Rae Davis of San Francisco is at her summer home for the vacation months.

Frank Peebles, in the old days a musician at El Verano Villa, is registered at Oak Grove Resort.

Pat Burns, S. P. main line veteran engineer, was in incoming passenger from Oakland, to spend the week end at his Verano home.

Louis Lamotte, former owner of El Verano Villa, now residing in San Francisco, was a visitor at the famous resort Sunday.

Henry Koerner, of the Oak Grove Resort, has installed a large and up to date radio at the resort and daily hears the news of the world. Guests

SUGGESTIONS FOR CONSERVING OF WATER

Stop all leaky faucets, where many gallons are wasted.

Irrigate, but do not inundate.

Lawns and gardens require much less water than is generally used.

Toilets should not be allowed to flush day and night.

For bathing, use half the quantity as heretofore.

For washing clothes be very sparing and use only what is absolutely necessary.

In domestic uses when washing dishes or vegetables, or one's hands, do not let water run.

When washing automobiles, close water when not actually rubbing parts.

The public in general must co-operate in conserving water. The drain is great and in case of fire, a terrible calamity would follow in case the supply was low. We urge your co-operation in saving water. Many drops make gallons. Do not sprinkle sidewalks and premises.

Save the water.

Mrs. Irving Shepard, who has been in frail health for some time past, has been in San Francisco for a short visit and upon her return home will bring her sister, Mrs. Dudley (Hilda Ranker) to visit her several weeks at the London ranch.

TEN MILLIONTH FORD STARTS FOR CALIFORNIA

Bearing a written message from Mayor Hylan of New York to Mayor Rolph of San Francisco, the ten millionth Ford car headed westward on its trans-continental trip over the Lincoln Highway.

From New York to Philadelphia, and then out toward the setting sun, the ten millionth was accompanied by many other Ford cars sent out by dealers along the way to do honor to this historic member of the great Ford family.

The start from New York was auspicious. Proceeding from the Ford Motor Company branch at 1710 Broadway about 10 a. m., June 16th, the car went directly to Times Square. Its arrival immediately attracted thousands of passersby on the famous thoroughfare. J. Newton Gunn, president of the Lincoln Highway Association, was present and officially started the car on its trip to the western coast.

Leaving Times Square the ten millionth Ford proceeded to the ferry crossing to Jersey City where dealers of that metropolis were awaiting to greet it, and extended to it a big welcome. The trip down through New Jersey was a continual and triumphant procession, Ford dealers in each city joining with others in escorting it along the way.

The car is being sent across the country in celebration of 10,000,000 production by the Ford Motor Company and will arrive in San Francisco July 28th.

INSURE NOW!

Time enough to call a doctor,
 After you are sick.
 Time enough to see a dentist,
 When your tooth hurts to the quick.
 Time enough to find a lawyer,
 When you are in doubt.
 But it's too late to call an Insurance Agent,
 After you're burned out.
